Hello, Rick.

Thanks for your email. I'll gladly answer your questions.

Well, I'm not sure about a big event, but I definitely suggest you to have a whole of a time in our city park. It's so safe and sound out there. You and your friends can simply relax there and talk about anything, while listening to birds and noise of trees. However, if your friends love art you all can go to any theatre in the city. I don't really like art so I can't recommend you ^{anything} (something). Also, you can book a table outside @ cafe or ~~rest~~ to watch people, cars and city buildings. I think that's a great way to reflect the character of our country in it's real. Talking to your friends in a quite and chill place is the best way of interaction with them for me. But if we are speaking about a big event and some loud place, maybe your friends would like our city club where you can dance and have drinks. You can choose whatever you want and your friends like. Don't forget to ask them!

Cheers,
Dima

Hello, Lucy.

I got your letter, thanks.

I'm sorry you're ^{with} Mom about clothes.

I have the same one problems. I believe that people should ~~be~~ respect each other's choices.

In any situation, you can find a compromise.

Think about it, okay?

I will be waiting for you letter.

Your Sasha.
